Grant Review Process and Timeline

Review Process

Community Review Panels (CRP's) composed of community volunteers with relevant experience and expertise review all of the proposals and rank them according to the current year IWF grant priorities and the procedures described in the Grant Review Process Document.

The rankings are reported to the IWF Grants Committee which then evaluates the top-ranked proposals from the CRP's and makes funding recommendations to the IWF Board of Directors. The Board of Directors makes the final funding decisions.
